1. DEFINITIONS

"Licensed Materials" means the Reference Design files and accompanying documentation

“Design” means a Licensee design/project that uses the Licensed Materials to create (a) a single binary bitstream (using one or more instances of the Licensed Materials) for use to program a FPGA Device on one or more printed circuit boards; or (b) one or more binary bitstreams (using one or more instances of the Licensed Materials) for use to program one or more FPGA Devices on a single printed circuit board. Derivative or follow-on Designs, with the sole exception of bug fixes to remedy errors in the original Design, are not part of the Design as defined herein.

“Target Device Family” means the Agilex F-series FPGA family supported by Licensed Materials.

"Authorized Site" means a single geographic location in which Licensee conducts business, with a radius of no more than five (5) miles, which location is identified above.

"Error" means a repeatable failure of the Licensed Materials to substantially conform to its specifications as published by Hitek.

Subject to the provisions of this Agreement, Hitek hereby grants Licensee a perpetual, limited, non-exclusive, royalty-free, revocable, non-transferable right, under Hitek intellectual property rights to install, copy (for backup purposes and as reasonably required), and use the Licensed Materials, in compiled binary (netlist) form only, and related documentation for the sole purpose of creating, simulating, and implementing one or more “Design” at the Authorized Site only to be programmed on to the FPGAs from Target Device Family.

Hitek hereby grants Licensee: (i) the rights to embed programmed FPGA’s that include the Licensed Materials within Licensee’s products for internal use and (ii) the rights to distribute products containing programmed FPGAs that include the Licensed Materials to customers and or end users of Licensee’s products.

b) Restrictions on Use.

Subject to Section 2 a), Licensee may not provide Licensed Material to a third party without prior written approval from Hitek; provided, however, Licensee may provide device programming files – FPGA bitstream files or PROM files – incorporating one or more instances of the Licensed Material to the third parties without prior approval in order to program the FPGAs that operate in Licensee's system-level hardware products.

Subject to Section 2 a), Licensee shall not distribute, rent, lend, loan, lease or sublicense any portion of the Licensed Materials to any third party without the prior written consent of Hitek.

Subject to Section 2 a), Licensee shall restrict access to the Licensed Materials to only those Licensee employees and sub-contractors assigned to the Project.

Subject to Section 2 a), Licensee may copy the Licensed Materials only to the extent necessary for its authorized use of the Licensed Materials, and for archival and back-up purposes, provided always that Licensee will at all times and in each instance, reproduce all copyright notices and proprietary legends on each copy in the same manner as such notices and legends appeared on the original. No other copies may be made without Hitek's prior written consent.

Licensee shall not decrypt, decompile, reverse-engineer, disassemble, or otherwise reduce what is not already human-perceivable (e.g., documentation) to a human-perceivable form, the Licensed Materials.

Licensee acknowledges and agrees that in the event Licensee elects to modify, adapt, or alter the Licensed Materials, Hitek shall have no obligation to provide technical support or updates for such modifications.

This License will commence upon the date that this License is executed and will remain effective until terminated.

b) Termination

Licensee may terminate this Agreement at any time for any or no reason by destroying the Licensed Materials and all copies, including removing and erasing from hardware and providing notice to Hitek of same. Hitek has the right to terminate the license to use the Licensed Materials if Licensee fails to comply with any material term of this Agreement, given that the Licensee has been notified in writing by Hitek of its breach of this Agreement and Licensee fails to cure the breaching event within thirty (30) days of receipt of notice from Hitek.
